Article 4 – General Rules

Each school may enter one or more choreographies, including multiple choreographies in the same category, provided that the majority of the dancers are different (the same dancers may perform multiple times, but in different sections).
Soloists may also be part of a group/crew and a duo/pair.
Duo dancers may also be part of a group/crew and may perform as soloists.
Crews must consist of a minimum of 3 dancers.
All contestants must be familiar with the rules and regulations.

Article 5 – Judging Criteria

The jury, selected by the organization, will consist of national and international choreographers.

There may be ties among the winners. The jury's decision is final.
Performances will be evaluated according to the following criteria:
technique / choreography / musicality

The jury reserves the right to further divide or merge sections, not to award all the prizes available, or, conversely, to award special mentions.
In the event that a jury member is unable to attend the contest, the organization reserves the right to appoint a new jury member.

Article 6 – Permitted Styles
